Pastor's Letter,

Tis the season to be worried has passed. For me, Christmas is a time of anxiety and fear. I worry that I am going to forget some important detail for the advent and Christmas eve services. I have children traveling great distances to come home, and I worry about their safety. I am always a nervous wreck, wondering what Sharon will think of her Christmas present. During all this, I must remember our wedding anniversary. Yikes, another present to worry about! On top of it all, it appears I will have to worry about how my Detroit Lions will do in the playoffs. To be honest, at the end of Christmas, I am tired. I am tired of worrying, tired of being afraid, tired of the nervous feelings. During this Christmas time, I end up asking myself, "did Jesus come to this earth that I can live in fear and worry?"

When we read the Gospel's accounts of Jesus' birth the answer is clear. No, Jesus did not come so we can be slaves to anxiety and fear. Zechariah was told not to fear. Joseph was told to be not afraid, the Shepherds out in their fields were told the same thing. Even Mary, who was getting very troubling news was told not to be afraid. How can the Good News boldly proclaim, "do not be afraid", in times of struggle and strife? The birth of a child, a child named Immanuel, (God with us) empowers the Good News, reminding us that we are never alone.

If history has taught us anything, it is every New Year is going to bring new challenges. I believe that 2024 will be no different. This upcoming year will have beautiful moments, heartwarming moments, times that take our breath away. 2024 will also have heartbreaking, anxious moments. There will definitely be things to worry about. However, the Good News is the message of Christmas, God is with us. When we carry that message, it empowers us to hope all things, believe all things, it allows us to do all things through Christ who strengthens us. For this New Year, let us remember Jesus changes everything.

Sewing for Service Summary for 2023

During 2023 the women who are a part of Sewing for Service were busy, busy, busy. Some of us met in the Fellowship Hall on Wednesday afternoons. Brenda Grube, Nancy Hermance, Sue Kropf, Beth Hyde, JoAnn Hickman, Carol McConnell, Doris Biehl, Ellie Johns and Marian Ruge were regulars this year. Jody Scholfield, Linda Moody and Mary Scheel sewed or pinned or tied or created at home.

The purpose of Sewing for Service is to provide warm, colorful tied quilts for community members. This is the list of donations for 2023:

Veterans	27
Habitat for Humanity	16
Greeley Family House	15
Wishes Come True	12
Life Stories	10
Department of Human Services	49
Angel Tree	1
Sold	15
Total	145

Sewing for Service has been blessed to receive many donations. Linda Moody gave us several completed, colorful quilts. Donna Barlett cleaned out her cupboards and gave us miles of fabulous fabric. Marcia Hull donated sheets. Connie Long found fleece for us. Bev Williams gave us some 'flimsies' to finish. Other donations just appear and surprise us. All donations are welcome. Because we receive so many donations of fabric, we use the money from the sales to repair and service the sewing machines and buy batting, thread, and other supplies. Thank you to the cheerful Sewing for Service worker bees and to the members of our church who support this mission. If you are looking for a warm blanket, stop by Fellowship Hall on Wednesday afternoon. Our shop will be open! We might even put you to work.

Prayer Shawls

If you know someone who needs a little extra warmth this winter, stop by Kathy's office and choose a prayer shawl to give him/her. There is no cost for the shawl; members of our church have knitted or crocheted them as gifts. A prayer shawl can surround a new baby, lift the spirits of someone who is sick or lonely, comfort a grieving friend, or share God's love with a neighbor. (Please record who you are gifting the shawl to in the book in the cupboard.)

News from United Women in Faith

United Women
in Faith

Our December Christmas celebration was highlighted by music & singing from Rex Andrews, brother of Ulafay Fry. Special Christmas stories & items (collections of angels and nativities) were shared all around the tables and a delight to hear about.

We start a new year on January 11th with our annual pledge service by Marcia Walters. We financially support our WIF district, service agencies, students through the Aims Foundation, and our own church. We would like to pitch in to replace the nonworking refrigerator/freezer in our kitchen. Let's think about how we can accomplish these goals in 2024.

Do you know that the WIF is responsible for overseeing the kitchen? We would appreciate it if you were using the kitchen that everything is cleaned, dried, and put back in its proper place. Then it is ready for the next person. We are short on drying towels and wash cloths as the day care is also using them. We would appreciate donations. Our drawers are getting empty.

We've noticed the kitchen sinks being left unclean with nasty debris dried on the bottom and soap scum not rinsed away. The Lucky Duckling Daycare uses those sinks too so please see they are left clean when you are finished. That is something that gets inspected by the health department periodically.

Local and Global

Our Lucky Duckling Daycare is up and running. Hailey Zaggle, the director, had an article in the last newsletter with items that they could use. Needed items include healthy snacks, items for extra lunches (microwavable mac n cheese bowls), diapers and wipes. There is a box in the east Narthex for donations to the daycare. Please put your items in the box and we will see that they get to Hailey.

The Blessing Box is stocked several times a week and items are getting low. We are in need of protein (tuna in a pouch, chicken, chicken soup etc.) in pop top cans. We can always use fruit cups, peanut butter and crackers. We make hygiene bags which include a washcloth, soap, lotion, toothbrush, toothpaste and a comb. We are getting low on those items. Please put any donations in the Mission Room which is located across from the office.

The Local and Global Concerns Commission is very grateful for the Easter and Christmas offerings as those funds support our mission work. With your generosity, we are able to support missions locally and across the world. After making our contributions for 2023, we have additional funds and discussed how to best use them. It was decided to support our local church with a contribution of $2000 to the operating account. If we didn't have our church as a base of operations and your generous support, we would not be able to do much mission work. Again, thank you so much!

Backpacks for Kids

The Weld Food Bank Backpacks for Kids program has started up again for the school year. Our church fills backpacks on the first Monday of each month. Our next time to go to the food bank is Monday, January 8th. We meet at the Weld Food Bank at 9AM. The food bank encourages everyone who volunteers to register online if you can but if not, please show up as plenty of help is always needed. If you have issues, please call them at 970-356-2199, ext. 307. Please contact Barbara Shaw or Donni Clark for any questions or for more information. Thank you.

Pray for Our Students

Education Commission

The Wednesday Bible Study group will be starting lessons again on January 17th, 10am in the Parlor. We welcome any individual who would like to join us. Our study this time will be Adam Hamilton's newly published, "Wrestling with DOUBT, Finding Faith".

Everyone has doubts. Where is God when bad things happen? Does God hear our prayers? Is there a heaven? Often, we treat such questions as the enemy of faith, but uncertainty doesn't mean our belief is lacking. We will be talking about how we can create a deeper, richer encounter with God.

Please call Kathy Trevino @ 970-353-5522, and let her know by Jan. 4th if you are interested in getting a book. If you have questions please contact Connie Long, 970-371-5277 or Carolyn Tarman, 970-396-8564

We will be putting information out about the McNulty Scholarship in February and March, please let Connie Long know if you would like an application.

Education Commission, Connie
